

Pictures of the day: 16th March 2016

01 | 02 | 03 | 04 | 05 | 06 | 07 | 08 | 09 | 10 | 11 | 12 | 13 | 14 | 15 | 16 | MORE...

A blue shark was found washed up on the coast of Pembroke, in eastern Malta, and rescued by charity Sharklab-Malta. Brit Greg Nowell, who founded the charity, was called to the beach after reports of an injured or dying shark, and leapt into action as he coaxed the shark away from the rocks and back into the water. It took five attempts for the shark to clear the rocks, but she was soon swimming happily back into the deep ocean.

Picture: GREG NOWELL/CATERS NEWS

Comments are closed on this picture gallery.

© Copyright of Telegraph Media Group Limited 2016